

FlatScan-TPXi™ is a lightweight, portable, robust x-ray scanning system for bomb and threat inspection. It has the largest active scanning area on the market, the clearest reported image and an ultra-slim detector making it ideal for EOD, security and customs applications.

FlatScan-TPXi Bomb/Threat detection

For military, police, customs and major public events

- Clearest reported image quality on the market
- Suspect packages and through-wall detection
- Largest active detector area (535 x 412mm)
- Simple to use
- Sees through 25mm steel
- Mobile customs searches
- Minimum 'Time on Target'
- Accurate materials differentiation
- Thinnest 'all-in-one' panel (5cm) detector
- Non-destructive testing
- Portable, lightweight and easy to use - even when wearing full body protection
- Wireless (or cabled) for fast set-up & image acquisition

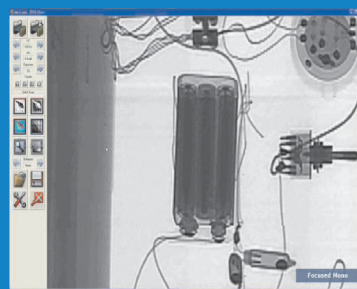

3DX-RAY
Design Detect Deliver

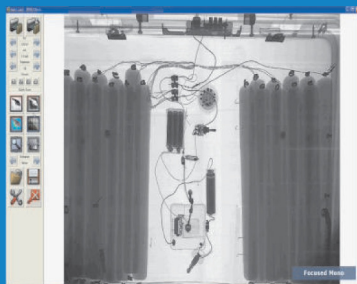

FlatScan-TPXi's innovative, patented hardware design and software algorithms combine to create images of unprecedented clarity. Our unique DeepFocus™ feature enhances contrast in dark regions retaining fine-wire contrast without loss of data. This is complemented by smooth, continuous pan / zoom and the ability to rescan all or part of the image at a higher resolution.

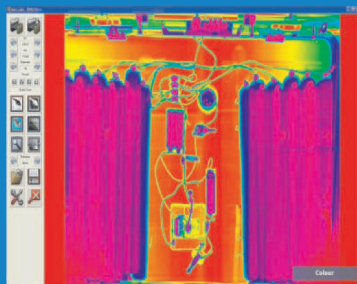

- Simple, clear controls
- Toggling between normal, reverse and false color modes
- Fast and detailed scanning modes
- Progressive depth penetration analysis
- Data averaging and noise reduction algorithms
- Image processing including mono, invert, pseudo colour, continuous zoom and pan, image rotate and histogram analysis
- Automatic calibration

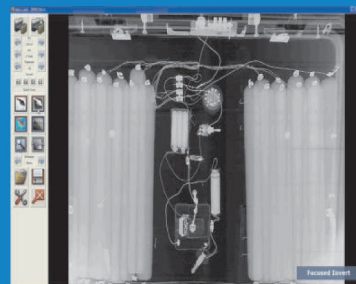

Deepfocus™

Normal mode

Colour mode

Inverse mode

Full service support from a global supplier

3DX-RAY is a global supplier of advanced x-ray systems for industrial and security applications. Our expertise is in maximising the information which can be extracted from x-ray images.

3DX-RAY
Design Detect Deliver

Caravan International Corporation
641 Lexington Ave.
New York, NY 10022

tel: +1(212)223-7190
fax: +1(212)223-8707
email
ucernuschi@caravan-ny.com